

Savannah Monument

Combat De Vertieres

HAHS Current Project

The Haitian American Historical Society, along with the Mayor and City Commission of Savannah, Georgia, are currently planning to erect a historical monument in the city's Franklin Square to honor the bravery and courage of the Haitian Ancestors who died in combat in Savannah. The estimated cost of the project is over $2.5 million.

Famous Haitians Projects

These will include Jean Baptiste Point Du Sable, Chicago's First Settler, John James Audubon, Legendary Bird Watcher and Naturalist, Pierre Toussaint, Philanthropist and the Nation's First Black Saint, Alexandre Dumas, Famous Author, Writer of The Three Musketeers and the Count of Monte Cristo and Henry Christophe, 12-year old Drummer at the 1779 Siege of Savannah Battle during the American Revolutionary War (future King of Haiti). Project expertise and credibility are established through strong alliances and partnerships, leadership networks, and grassroots efforts.

Promoting HAHS

In addition to the Savannah Monument, the Haitian American Historical Society continues to further its efforts to establish other projects that will enable current and future generations to understand and appreciate the role and contributions of their Haitian Ancestors to the American Society and other parts of the world.

- Media Outreach
- Speaker Bureau
- Haitian American Historical Society Libraries
- Haitian American Historical Society Reading Rooms
- Haitian American Historical Society Writers' Group

Funding

We are soliciting funding from both public and private sectors such as philanthropic organizations, individual donors, corporation, and private foundations membership drives. Additionally, periodic fund-raising activities will take place.
